

Meeting Notes March 2023

1. CALL TO ORDER

The meeting was called to order at 10 AM.

2. ANNOUNCEMENTS

- Lois and Elaine have an exhibit at the Larkspur library of their knitting. Lois's knitted birds are on display.
- Phyllis camp finished our new guild banner and it was presented at the meeting. We discussed various ways to hang the banner and requested members think of options to present at the next meeting. Some suggestions include hanging from the front of the table cloth possible by attaching a rod to keep it from draping unevenly. Connect rod with clips, I-cord, ... Pros of having hang from table cloth include great visual from afar, con - not stable if people are standing in front of it and difficult to see all the sample squares, laying banner on top of table pro- good visuals to seeing all the different sample squares, cons, not visible from afar. Other suggested being able to change display options for when there is a wall to hang banner from. This could utilize the rod system as well. Elaine as fair Liaison has volunteered to house the banner and will bring it to the next meeting for display discussions. Members want to note who has the banner so we do not lose it. Christine will send Phyllis the check for her work finishing the banner.
- Beth and Christine attended Stitches West in Sacramento and shared their experiences. They both enjoyed it. They mentioned it was smaller and some booths were empty likely due to excessive snow this year caused transportation problems. Classes seemed to be expanding from knit to sewing and other fiber arts.

3. OLD BUSINESS

- Elaine is still working on the Corte Madera community room, no updates at this time.
- Elaine announced fair theme this year will be "Electrifying", there will not be a paper exhibitors guide, it will all be online and should be available march 31st. There will be limited space for exhibits due to seismic retrofit of the large exhibit hall. We agree that Elaine will request that the Guild is acknowledged in the online guide as the funders for two $50.00 gift certificates for junior best of show in knitting and best of show in crochet. We also discussed asking for a table at the fair for at least the first day - June 30th and possibly all fair days. They have not yet provided Elaine with the details regarding how many submissions per person or the due date for submissions.
